When Rivers Burned: The Earth Day Story
By Linda Crotta Brennan
Illustrations by Lisa Greenleaf
RL 6 – ages 12 and up
Interest level: grades 6 and above
(80 pages) Hardcover book.
Once, in America. . . .
chemicals killed plants and animals. Cars and factories filled the air with toxic fumes. Oil spills destroyed ocean life. The sewage floating along America’s rivers was so thick it sometimes caught fire. The Earth was dying.
Senator Gaylord Nelson believed that attitudes about ecology could change if people understood what was happening. He charged student organizer, Denis Hayes, with coordinating a national Earth Day observance. What these men began on April 22, 1970, would change the world for the better.

“. . .the best brief chronology of the historical strands in that period. . .”
—Denis Hayes
