CHAPTER 1: Rosa María Hinojosa de Ballí:
First “Cattle Queen” of Texas

CHAPTER 2: Jane Long: Mother of Texas

Anne A. Brindley, “Jane Long,” Southwestern Historical Quarterly 56, Texas State Historical Association, October 1952.

Sowell A.J. History of Fort Bend County, Austin, TX: W. M. Morrison, 1964.

CHAPTER 3: Mary Crownover Rabb:
Woman of the Frontier

CHAPTER 4: Cynthia Ann Parker: Captive in Two Worlds

“Cynthia Ann Parker (1827–1870) - Find A Grave Memorial.”

<http://www.spartacus.schoolnet.co.uk/WWparkerCA.htm>.

Chapter 5: Elizabeth Ney: Sculptress and “Great Person of the World”

Chapter 6: Molly Goodnight: Mother of the Panhandle

Chapter 7: Mollie Bailey: Circus Queen and Spy

Olga Bailey. Mollie Bailey: Circus Queen of the Southwest, printed by Harbin Spotts, 1943. [Book by daughter-in-law, privately printed, found in the Texas Room (non-circulating) of the Houston Public Library.]

Chapter 8: Annie Webb Blanton: Educator and Suffragist

Blanton, Annie W. The Child in the Texas One-Teacher School. Austin, TX: University of Texas, 1936.

CHAPTER 9: Miriam “Ma” Ferguson: First Woman Governor of Texas

CHAPTER 10: Clara Driscoll: Politician and Philanthropist

©2011—Women of the Lone Star State: 25 Texas Women You Should Know

Society Column. San Antonio Evening News. 2 July 1919: 8. NewspaperArchive.com. Story is a report of Mrs. Hal Sevier’s recent visit to the city, during which she told stories about her recent experiences living in Brazil (where Hal was serving with the Committee on Public Information).

Turner, Martha Anne. Clara Driscoll, An American Tradition. Austin, TX: Madrona Press, 1979. There appear to be a number of factual issues with this narrative. Nevertheless it remains the only biography of Clara Driscoll, and is apparently on a lot of school library shelves.

CHAPTER 11: Marion Koogler McNay: Artist and Art Collector

“Mrs. McNay, Patron, Offers Paintings, Estate to S. A.” San Antonio Light. 6 May 1942: 3-B.

CHAPTER 12: Connie Hagar: The Bird Lady of Texas

CHAPTER 13: Peggy Hull: First Accredited Female War Correspondent

Chapter 14: Bessie Coleman: Queen of the Sky

Rich, Doris L. Queen Bess: Daredevil Aviator (Smithsonian, 1993) Author’s note: Bessie Coleman left little memorabilia or paper trail. Newspapers about her often used her fame to run stories to promote circulation. Rich has created the nearest thing to a definitive biography by interviewing those who knew Coleman and using a memoir by Bessie’s sister, Elois Coleman.

Quotes in the text are copied from Rich’s book, pp. 27 and 60 as reported by Coleman relatives. Pastor’s funeral oration quote is probably from newspaper reports. Rich gives no source for it.

Chapter 15: Waldine Amanda Tauch: Sculptor

Chapter 16: Oveta Culp Hobby: Publisher, Military Officer, and Government Leader

CHAPTER 17: “Babe” Didrikson Zaharias: Woman Athlete of the 20th Century

CHAPTER 18: Mary Kay Ash: Cosmetic, Queen

Click on “Begin Exploring Now” and select the “1960’s.”
There is a wonderful photo of Mary Kay kissing a cadillac.

Ferguson, Ira Lunan. Fantastic Experiences of a Half-blind, and His Interracial Marriage: An Autobiography. San Francisco: Lunan-Ferguson Library, 1982. Includes a story about staying with the Colemans in Midland as well as Viola’s friend in Fort Worth, Dr. Dorsey, while travelling cross-country in 1995. Valuable also as first-hand report of life in various parts of Americ in the 1950s and 60s.

CHAPTER 20: Nancy Binford: Rodeo Cowgirl and Producer

Cowgirl Hall of Fame. <www.cowgirl.net>

Texas State Historical Association. <www.tshaonline.org/index.html>

CHAPTER 21: Barbara Bush: First Lady and Crusader for Literacy

©2011—Women of the Lone Star State: 25 Texas Women You Should Know 9

CHAPTER 22: Ann Richards: Politician

CHAPTER 23: Barbara Jordan: U. S. Congresswoman

©2011—Women of the Lone Star State: 25 Texas Women You Should Know 10

Chaper 24: Guadalupe Quintanilla: Creator of Cross-cultural Understanding

Author interviews with Guadalupe Quintanilla, 1994 and 2009.

Curriculum Vitae: Guadalupe C. Quintanilla.

Chapter 25: Anastasia (Nastia) Liukin: Olympic Gymnast

